

University of Sheffield, Department of Psychology Seminars

(All seminars are on Fridays at 1pm in the Department's Lecture Theatre unless otherwise stated)

11 February 2011

TBC

18 February 2011

Dr Noam Sagiv, Centre for Cognition and Neuroimaging (CCNi), Brunel University
"Synaesthesia: A window into cross-modal perception, consciousness, and cognition"

25 February 2011

Dr Giles Anderson, University of Birmingham
"What you looking at? Eye movements during conjunction search without target-specific bias"

4 March 2011

Prof David Uzzell, University of Surrey
"If we are all in this together, then let's start acting that way": Critical Perspectives on the Psychology of Climate Change

11 March 2011

Dr Mandy Barnett, Warwick Medical School, University of Warwick
"Bad news - who hears it; who breaks it; who teaches it"

18 March 2011

Dr Debbie Riby, School of Psychology, Newcastle University
"Attention to Faces in Williams Syndrome and Autism"

25 March 2011

Prof Charles Abraham, Peninsula College of Medicine & Dentistry, University of Exeter
"Behaviour Change: What works?"

1 April 2011

Dr Chris Williams, University of Glasgow
"Using CBT self-help with eating disorders"

8 April 2011

Dr Ingo Schiessl, University of Manchester
"Tissue scattering vs. oxygenation changes: A better signal for functional brain imaging?"

EASTER VACATION

6 May 2011

Prof Vittorio Girotto, Università IUAV di Venezia
"Probabilistic intuitions in infants and young children"

13 May 2011

Dr Chris Jones, Department of Psychology, University of Sheffield
"You've Been Framed? A study of the UK government's framing of the Nuclear Power debate and its impact upon attitudes towards the technology"

20 May 2011

Dr Megan Freeth, Department of Psychology, University of Sheffield
"Social Attention in Autism"

For more information please contact Josie Cassidy – j.cassidy@sheffield.ac.uk