^ Please note: there is a break over Christmas between the end of module HCS 276 and the start of HCS 275, but the remaining modules run consecutively without a break through to September. Note that the second module, HCS 275, starts between Christmas and New Year. If you are unable to study at this time, it is possible to catch up over the following weeks.

These dates are unlikely to change. There is a small possibility that some may need to be amended slightly after the course has started, in which case students will be informed.
