This is a suggested wording you can use when contacting publishers

Dear ******

I am a postgraduate research student at the University of Sheffield working towards my thesis on (insert title of thesis). I wish to include the following extract in my thesis and am contacting you as the author or rights-holder:

[Insert details of the material you wish to include]

(For example:

2. Fig.5 The golden torques of Rhenen, Achterberg (photograph Centraal Museum) in Besteman, J.C. et al. (eds.) (1990) Medieval archaeology in the Netherlands: studies presented to H.H. van Regeren Altena. Van Gorcum, p.15)

The electronic version of my thesis will be deposited in White Rose eTheses Online repository (http://etheses.whiterose.ac.uk/). The repository is non-commercial and openly available to all. I would be grateful if you could advise if this will be acceptable.

Kind regards
