Anglican Chaplain (self-supporting)

The Anglican Chaplaincy Trust at the University of Sheffield is seeking a self-supporting Anglican Chaplain, who appreciates work in a setting outside a parish.

This is a rare and exciting opportunity to work within one of the most international and diverse universities, serving in ecumenical Christian ministry among 30,000 students and 8,000 staff, based at and within a diverse team at the Belief, No Belief and Religious (BNBR) Life Centre.

The post-holder will become an associate university staff member, and benefit from being part of a progressive learning and research university. Connection with the diocese will include participation in relevant training and development, the local deanery chapter and holding the bishop's licence.

For an informal conversation please contact the Coordinating Chaplain, Jeremy Clines j.clines@sheffield.ac.uk

Closing date 19th July (flexible)
