Dr Colin Bingle’s Publications - September 2010

Denotes Principal (P) or joint (J) author

REFEREED PAPERS.

isoforms reduces during 3 malignant transformation in the human gastrointestinal tract. FEBS Lett. 579:3646-50

P) Bingle L, Singleton V and Bingle CD (2002). The putative ovarian tumour marker gene HE4 (WFDC2), is expressed in normal tissues and undergoes complex alternative splicing to yield multiple protein isoforms. Oncogene. 21, 2768-2773

P Bingle CD, Kelly FJ, Epstein O and Srai SKS. (1992) Induction of hepatic and pulmonary caeruloplasmin gene expression in developing

REFEREED REVIEWS.

