Our firm

Ernst & Young is one of the world’s leading professional services organisations, with a turnover of US $22.9bn. It currently has over 167,000 people in 140 countries, and ambitious global growth plans. This continued growth depends on the talented, engaged and diverse people who drive its success.

Ernst & Young’s clients include some of the world’s most successful, innovative and respected organisations, spanning all industry sectors. Their people understand how businesses work. Their ingenuity and creativity help anticipate and meet their clients’ needs; improving how they work, making vital business decisions and exploring opportunities. They work globally in four service lines: Advisory, Assurance, Corporate Finance and Tax.

Our clients across the world demand people with exceptional skills and knowledge to help them make vital business decisions every day. That’s why we provide world-class mentoring, training and professional qualifications to take you from strength to strength. Start a career that goes further, faster.

Ernst & Young Summer Internship

You’ll spend an exciting six-weeks learning some fundamental business skills, and get a real taste of what it’s like to work here. By the end, you’ll be doing similar work to our graduates.

You’ll be part of a team working with real clients in one of our four main service lines: Advisory, Assurance, Corporate Finance and Tax.

You’ll benefit from an intensive induction programme, career counselling and personal development coaching from an expert mentor. Because you’ll spend several weeks with the company, it’ll help you really understand which aspects of work you enjoy, and how to best use your strengths.

It’s paid work experience and if things go really well you could end up with a job offer for when you graduate, which will really take some pressure off your final year. You may also get the opportunity to attend the International Intern Leadership Conference in Florida.

All the way through, you’ll stretch yourself with new challenges, and get support and feedback from an expert mentor.

Ernst & Young Leadership Academy

Our three-day Leadership Academy is an elite programme offering those with real talent the chance to shine. We’ll team you up with some of our sharpest business minds to learn from their experiences.

You’ll learn a lot about yourself by questioning how you work, interact with others and approach decision-making. You’ll get an opportunity to explore your leadership potential and develop your influencing skills, with specific feedback on your personal style.

Make no mistake: this is a demanding environment that will push you out of your comfort zone. You’ll be set tasks that will stretch and challenge you. It might be about exercising your logic, or inspiring a team of people into action. But we can promise that it will make you question how you work, how you approach decision making and how you work with others. In short, it’ll give you a unique insight into how to use your strengths to reach the top.

For more information you can follow us on:

www.facebook.com/EYUKcareers
twitter.com/EY_StudentsUK
Ernst & Young Scholars of the Future is a unique programme that is only offered to selected individuals that are studying History or Geography at the University of Sheffield.

At Ernst & Young, we’re committed to helping find and support the brightest talent of tomorrow. Join the two year scholarship programme in your next two years of study and take your first step to moving your career forward, faster. There are limited places available and we’re only looking for the very best.

Why join Ernst & Young as a Scholar of the Future?

Once you are accepted on to our programme you will get to experience a wide range of opportunities during your second and third year of study for your degree.

First year of the Scholarship
► Get an insight into a normal Ernst & Young day, visiting one of our many UK offices.
► A £1,000 bursary to assist you with your course and living arrangements.
► Be invited to our Leadership Academy; where the graduates we feel have the most potential learn more on their strengths and weaknesses over three days are taught how to maximise their skill set and get to network with like minded people.
► Complete a CSR programme in an area of your choosing.
► Get the chance to be Ernst & Young’s brand ambassador for Sheffield University which will be paid to recognise your good work.
► Join our Summer Internship Programme or join our Industrial Placement Programme.

Second year of the Scholarship
► A £1,000 bursary to assist you with your course and living arrangements.
► Complete a CSR programme in an area of their choosing.
► Be an Ambassador for the Scholarship; presenting the scheme and your experiences.
► Stay in touch with your Ernst & Young colleagues before potentially joining us on our Graduate Programme.

Who we are looking for
► People who enjoy the excitement of new experiences.
► People who understand the rewards and opportunities from working hard in a diverse workplace.
► Outgoing, social people who love meeting like minded people.
► People who can show they are high achievers by having obtained at least 340 UCAS points across three subjects at A-level, and be on track for a 2.1 Degree.

The recruitment process
► Your tutor will discuss this opportunity with you and if you are interested they will pass your CV to Ernst & Young.
► Ernst & Young will call you to discuss the opportunity with you further allowing you to ask any questions you may have.
► You, and a number of other interested students will be invited to a formal dinner with Ernst & Young on 10 June, followed by an Assessment Centre on 11 June. Your Ernst & Young contact will be able to provide guidance on both.
► Successful students will be contacted the same week with an offer!

About Ernst & Young
► Ernst & Young offers rewarding challenges, a fast-paced and exciting environment and the opportunity to work with bright, motivated and diverse people.
► Making a difference to the wider community through Ernst & Young’s corporate responsibility policies and activities; employees are given time off to volunteer on their chosen vocations.
► Ernst & Young won The Times Best Big Companies to Work for Best Training and Development category.
► Ernst & Young is also the first of the Big 4 firms to be awarded the Investor in People Award (2012).
► Ernst & Young embrace diversity and value everyone’s different backgrounds.
► 19% ethnic minorities, 49% females; EY Black Network, EYGLES (gay and lesbian societies), EY South Asian Network, Parents Network etc.
► Ernst & Young offers a differentiated client experience through lasting relationships and exceeding clients’ expectations.

Why join Ernst & Young as a Scholar of the Future?

Once you are accepted on to our programme you will get to experience a wide range of opportunities during your second and third year of study for your degree.

First year of the Scholarship
► Get an insight into a normal Ernst & Young day, visiting one of our many UK offices.
► A £1,000 bursary to assist you with your course and living arrangements.
► Be invited to our Leadership Academy; where the graduates we feel have the most potential learn more on their strengths and weaknesses over three days are taught how to maximise their skill set and get to network with like minded people.
► Complete a CSR programme in an area of your choosing.
► Get the chance to be Ernst & Young’s brand ambassador for Sheffield University which will be paid to recognise your good work.
► Join our Summer Internship Programme or join our Industrial Placement Programme.

Second year of the Scholarship
► A £1,000 bursary to assist you with your course and living arrangements.
► Complete a CSR programme in an area of their choosing.
► Be an Ambassador for the Scholarship; presenting the scheme and your experiences.
► Stay in touch with your Ernst & Young colleagues before potentially joining us on our Graduate Programme.

Who we are looking for
► People who enjoy the excitement of new experiences.
► People who understand the rewards and opportunities from working hard in a diverse workplace.
► Outgoing, social people who love meeting like minded people.
► People who can show they are high achievers by having obtained at least 340 UCAS points across three subjects at A-level, and be on track for a 2.1 Degree.

The recruitment process
► Your tutor will discuss this opportunity with you and if you are interested they will pass your CV to Ernst & Young.
► Ernst & Young will call you to discuss the opportunity with you further allowing you to ask any questions you may have.
► You, and a number of other interested students will be invited to a formal dinner with Ernst & Young on 10 June, followed by an Assessment Centre on 11 June. Your Ernst & Young contact will be able to provide guidance on both.
► Successful students will be contacted the same week with an offer!

About Ernst & Young
► Ernst & Young offers rewarding challenges, a fast-paced and exciting environment and the opportunity to work with bright, motivated and diverse people.
► Making a difference to the wider community through Ernst & Young’s corporate responsibility policies and activities; employees are given time off to volunteer on their chosen vocations.
► Ernst & Young won The Times Best Big Companies to Work for Best Training and Development category.
► Ernst & Young is also the first of the Big 4 firms to be awarded the Investor in People Award (2012).
► Ernst & Young embrace diversity and value everyone’s different backgrounds.
► 19% ethnic minorities, 49% females; EY Black Network, EYGLES (gay and lesbian societies), EY South Asian Network, Parents Network etc.
► Ernst & Young offers a differentiated client experience through lasting relationships and exceeding clients’ expectations.