This diagram highlights some of the support services available to international students studying in the School of Architecture.

These sources of support take many different forms: organisations, individuals and events are all included. There are many more services available too - this map should act as an initial guide to key useful points of contact.

The colours distinguish the three main providers of support:

- School of Architecture
- University Department of Student Services
- Sheffield Students’ Union

Advice from past and present students:

1. "I wish I had been to more SUAS events. I enjoyed the Ball a lot!

   Second Year Undergraduate"

2. "I enjoyed participating in the lunch-time lecture series and meeting other students with different levels of experience.

   MArch Student"

3. "I always found the information desk very helpful. Knowing such support exists is reassuring.

   SUAS Student"

4. "I used the English language service to check the grammar and structure of parts of my dissertation and it was very good.

   Third Year Undergraduate: Student"

5. "PGAS was able to support some of the innovative ideas on sustainability that have not yet been installed in the courses themselves.
