Day 2: 13

Venues:
- Old Balancing Hall
- Scholery Room
- Goodwin Room
- Osbourn Room
- Main Hall

Urban governance, urban development and international migration

10:00 - 10:30 Workshop Session 2

Chair: Lucy Mapson (University of Sheffield)

Historical and social perspectives on city responses to migration and diversity

1. Leah Patel (Birkbeck, University of London), Comparison of migrant integration in London and Manchester: Racialised and gendered experiences of flows and settlement in two major English cities

2. Peter Wrigley (University of Manchester), How the city shapes responses to migration and diversity

3. Miles Bullivant (University of Manchester), Migration and urban planning for diversity, neighbourhood and intersectionality: Conceptualising urban practices of living together

10:30 - 10:45

Chair: Robert Markus (Harvard University), Activity space segregation across US cities

1. Patricia Eguia (University of Pennsylvania), Measuring the structural and spatial dynamics of activity space segregation among the US population

11:00 - 11:30

Chair: Ming Min (University of Glasgow), What is the changing relationship between diversity and social and built environments?

1. Armin Luijs (University of Amsterdam), Pathways of settlement among recent migrants in a superdiverse context

Workplace diversity and labour market experiences of migrants

1. Henrik Ineichen (University of Zürich), The impact of recent migration on the labour market in Switzerland: A micro-level study of social capital and integration

2. Laura Macfarlane (University of Liverpool), The role of local government in promoting diversity and inclusion

3. Nathalie Augier (French National Institute for Research in Computer Sciences and Control Systems) and Alexandra Citron (University of Lille), Measuring spatial segregation: A methodological review

11:30 - 11:45

Chair: Ming Min (University of Glasgow), Investigating the role of migration and diversity in shaping the urban environment

1. Richard Hanks (University of Sheffield), Migration and city diversity: Two South London case studies

12:00 - 13:30

Chair: Annelin Bengston (University of Malmö), Migration and the city: A transdisciplinary approach

1. Tony Taylor (University of Sheffield), Comparing migrant integration in two English cities

2. Kristoffer Jutvik (University of Bergen), Interculturalism: Changing migration and settlement?

3. Kristoffer Jutvik (University of Bergen), Interculturalism: Changing migration and settlement?

4. Kristoffer Jutvik (University of Bergen), Interculturalism: Changing migration and settlement?

5. Kristoffer Jutvik (University of Bergen), Interculturalism: Changing migration and settlement?

5:15 - 6:30

Chair: Mike Budge (University of Jönköping), The impact of migration and diversity on urban development

1. Brian Larrick (University of Colorado Boulder), The impact of migration on urban development

2. Nick Bailey (University of Glasgow), Economic inequalities in health and care: A new approach to measuring segregation

3. Robert Hagan (University of Sheffield), The impact of migration on urban development

4. Robert Hagan (University of Sheffield), The impact of migration on urban development

5. Robert Hagan (University of Sheffield), The impact of migration on urban development