Books in Print

2015: Julie V. Gottlieb (ed.), Feminists and Feminism in the Aftermath of Suffrage (London: Routledge)

2013: Julie V. Gottlieb and Richard Toye (eds.), The Aftermath of Suffrage: Women, Gender and Politics in Britain, 1918-1945 (Houndsmills: Palgrave Macmillan)—favourably reviewed in Cercles (February, 2014), Twentieth Century British History (April 2014), Reviews in History, with authors’ response (May, 2014), and Women’s History Review (June, 2014).

2005: Julie V. Gottlieb and Richard Toye (eds.), Making Reputations: Power, Persuasion and the Individual in Modern British Politics (London: I.B. Tauris), 243 pages. This collection grew out of an international conference we organised in 2002 that was concerned with assessing the impact of the individual, of personality and charisma, in British political history and related methodological questions about writing political biography.

2004: Julie V. Gottlieb and Thomas P. Linehan (eds.), The Culture of Fascism: Visions of the Far Right in Britain (London: I.B. Tauris), 254 pages. This collection was developed to fill a significant gap in the literature. Whereas, on the one hand, within fascist studies historians had begun to consider the cultural impact of these regimes, and, on the other hand, the scholarship British fascism continued to expand, we asked contributors to unite these two trends and to consider the cultural context and cultural expressions of British fascism. The Culture of Fascism has been reviewed in Race and Class, Ethnic and Racial Studies, the English Historical Review and e-extreme.

2000: Feminine Fascism: Women in Britain’s Fascist Movement, 1923-1945 (London: I.B Tauris & Co., distributed by New York, St. Martin’s Press), 378 pages. Feminine Fascism has been reviewed in History Compass, Signs, the Marx Memorial Library Bulletin, Albion, the Canadian Journal of History, the Journal of Modern History, Left History, the European History Quarterly, Twentieth Century British History, Canadian Women’s Studies, the English Historical Review, the Women’s History Review, Patterns of Prejudice, the American Historical Review, the Labour History Review, Choice, the Times Literary Supplement, the Times Higher Education Supplement, and the Jewish Chronicle.
