Knowledge Exchange Seminar

Widening the circle: re-thinking family support in safeguarding

April 28th 2016 11.30am – 4.00pm, Ramsden Building, The University of Huddersfield

Nationally and internationally we have seen the development of new approaches to working with families in adversity. This seminar explores the relationship of whole-family working and approaches to safeguarding. The seminar will explore:

- The role of men in families and their networks where there are safeguarding issues
- Whole family approaches to domestic abuse
- The role of family support in safeguarding

The day will include contributions from:

- Angela Everson, Chief Executive, Halifax WomenCentre
- Brid Featherstone, University of Huddersfield
- Kate Morris, University of Sheffield

The day will aim to be a mix of theoretical and practice focused discussions and will be an exciting opportunity to hear innovative local, national and international developments.

If you would like to attend, please confirm with Ann Bolstridge: a.bolstridge@bham.ac.uk as places are limited.
