

The University
Of Sheffield.

The Tuesday Lunchtime Lectures Series

Spring 2016

9 February

Prof David Breeze

Durham University

Reconstructing Hadrian's Wall: What did Hadrian's Wall and its various structures look like when completed?

16 February

Dr Ana Jorge

University of Aberdeen

Prehistoric hunter-gatherers in Alaska

23 February

Dr Gianna Ayala

University of Sheffield

Excavations at Knossos

1 March

Dr Silvia Valenzuela

University of Sheffield

How did the Romans improve animal husbandry? A perspective from Western Europe based on stable isotopes and faunal remains

8 March

Prof John Schofield

University of York

The Sounds of Heritage, Past and Present: Intersections and Encounters from Vikings to the Sex Pistols

15 March

Dr Kevin Cootes

Poulton Research
Project

A community rewriting the archaeology of Northern Britain: the Poulton Research Project

The University
Of Sheffield.

The Tuesday Lunchtime Lectures Series

Spring 2016

12 April

Dr Eileen Murphy

TBA

University of Belfast

19 April

Dr Véronique
Forbes

Beetle, lice and flea
subfossils from Nunalleq (Alaska) and the underappreciated value of archaeoentomology in the study of Arctic lifeways

University of Aberdeen

26 April

Dr Chloë Duckworth

In or out of limbo? The curious case of Roman vessel glass in the Central Sahara Desert

University of Leicester

3 May

Dr Jane Rempel
and Dr Sue Sherratt

TBA

University of Sheffield

10 May

PGR Presentations

1pm - Natasha Andronikou
Archaeology of Identity: (Un)
Dressing the female 'other' in Classical Greek Art

University of Sheffield

1:30pm - Yvette Marks
The inception and transmission of metallurgy: A regional approach

