Remembering Peter Blundell-Jones (1949-2016)

In celebration of a world renowned architect and much loved academic. Donations to the Peter Blundell-Jones Memorial Fund will give Sheffield students, who need financial support, the incredible opportunity to travel abroad and enhance their studies by experiencing architecture and different cultures first hand.

Please join us in celebrating Peter's life with a gift to the Peter Blundell-Jones Memorial Fund.

Professor Peter Blundell-Jones was a lecturer at the University of Sheffield's School of Architecture from 1994 until he sadly passed away in August 2016.

As well as having a remarkable international reputation as one of the finest and most widely respected architectural historians of his generation, Peter was also a talented teacher. If you were taught by Peter, you may remember him as a tough but incredibly fair and passionate critic, delivering the highest quality of teaching.

In Peter's memory, we want to establish a fund which will provide bursaries for students to travel abroad and gain greater understanding of international architecture and different cultures, which is so important in this field. For students who need additional financial support, the cost of travelling abroad often makes such an enriching experience unfeasible.

Your gift will open up the world to them and truly enhance their studies and future prospects.

“As a young man, Peter's travels in Europe brought him into contact with the buildings that inspired his life's work as an architectural historian and critic. There could be no more fitting use for a bursary in his name than to give a similar opportunity to a student who would not otherwise be able to travel.”

Remembering Peter Blundell-Jones

“Peter influenced me so much – I would say, my whole life. There is an old saying in traditional China – ‘one-day teacher, whole life father’. Peter was such a person to me. He was also ‘the father of the house’ of the School of Architecture, and I believe the flame will go on, for so many generations of younger students, scholars and practitioners not only in Sheffield, but also all over the world.”

Xiang Ren, PhD student

“Although his generosity, his brilliant writing, his astounding teaching, his curiosity, were all important, what I think is most important of all is to remember his central conviction as to the purpose of education; education as a duty of ethical empowerment.”

Jeremy Till, friend and Head of Central Saint Martins and Pro Vice-Chancellor of University of the Arts London
