FameLab: Yorkshire Heat

Thursday 1 February, 7-9pm
Tamper Sellers Wheel, 149 Arundel Street, S1 2NU
https://famelab-yorkshire-heat-2018.eventbrite.co.uk

Back for 2018! FameLab is a communications competition designed to engage and entertain by breaking down science, technology and engineering concepts into three minute presentations. The University of Sheffield is hosting the Yorkshire heat. Contenders from around the world take part armed only with their wits and a few props - the result is an unpredictable, enlightening and exciting way to encourage your curiosity and find out about the latest research.

Come and watch the region’s scientists compete in a battle to inform, inspire and entertain! We are delighted to announce that Simon Watt - writer, science-communicator and TV presenter - will be judging this year’s event.

SheFest

Monday 5 to Sunday 11 March
Various locations. Free or pay as you feel. Further information at: https://shefest.wordpress.com

SheFest is a city-wide fringe festival celebrating International Women’s Day and promoting gender equality. The programme features a wide range of inclusive and celebratory events, including performances, workshops, discussions, debates and talks. Join us to learn, discuss, celebrate and have fun!

Festival of Debate

April to June 2018
Various locations to be confirmed nearer the time.
Find out more at: www.festivalofdebate.com

The Festival of Debate returns with an exciting programme of panel discussions, debates, Q&As, artistic responses and keynote speeches. In Conversation with Kevin McCabe
Co-owner of Sheffield United Football Club and owner of Sheffield United Limited
Monday 5 February, 6.35pm
The Octagon Centre, Western Bank, S10 2TQ
Booking: www.sheffield.ac.uk/whatson/kevinmccabe

The evening, compared by Sports Journalist Andy Giddings from BBC Radio Sheffield, will see questions put to Kevin about his career as a broadcaster and his personal battle to regain his voice following lung cancer.

Kevin is the founder and Chairman of the Scarborough Group of Companies, a company with roots stretching back to 1910 and one of the UK’s busiest privately-owned investment, development and leisure corporations.

He remains Chairman and owner of Sheffield United Limited which owns the Blades’ Real Estate Interests and is a driving force behind the football club that does so much for the city of Sheffield.

A special guest from Sheffield United will also be attending the event and contributing to the conversations.

The 20th Sir Arthur Hall Memorial Lecture
What will the NHS be facing on its 90th birthday?
By Professor Chris Whitty, Chief Scientific Adviser for the Research and Development Portfolio of the Department of Health
Thursday 15 February, 6pm
The Students’ Union Auditorium, Students’ Union Building, The University of Sheffield, Western Bank, S10 2TQ
Booking: www.sheffield.ac.uk/whatson/20thsirarthurhalllecture

This year the NHS celebrates its 70th birthday. There have been significant changes in health and medicine in the UK over the last two decades, and in many areas of healthcare very substantial changes since the initial foundation of the NHS in 1948. These include major reductions in the impact of heart disease and stroke, large changes to infectious diseases and many improvements in the prevention and treatment of cancer. In some areas such as diabetes or mental health resistance has made the wrong direction. The demography of the UK has changed and is changing. Many of the trends have been remarkably stable and it is possible mistakenly to project forward 20 years in many areas of medicine and public health. This helps with planning research and policy. The 2018 Sir Arthur Hall lecture will consider where we have come from and where we are going over the next two decades in health and medicine.

The University of Sheffield in partnership with Trent Voice Clinical Excellence Network
An Evening with Nick Robinson
The battle to get my voice back
Thursday 8 March, 6.30pm
The Diamond, 32, Leaegreave Road, S3 7RD
Tickets £15. Proceeds will be donated to Macmillan Cancer Support

British journalist, author and presenter of BBC’s Today Programme, Nick Robinson, will share stories about his career as a broadcast journalist and his personal battle to regain his voice following lung cancer.

Nick will be joined by his Speech and Language Therapist Julia Selby, an alumna of the University of Sheffield. Together they will provide a unique insight into how they have worked together to rebuild Nick’s voice in shape and ready to go ‘on air’ following months of illness and surgery. They will also discuss the long term impact of voice therapy.

There will be a drinks reception following the event with an opportunity to meet Nick and Julia.

Public lecture by Professor Angela Gallop car
Chief Executive of Axiom International Ltd and Honorary Graduate of the University
Thursday 15 March, 6pm, Students’ Union Auditorium, Students’ Union Building, Western Bank, S10 2TQ

Professor Gallop is one of the UK’s most eminent forensic scientists, known equally for her work in crime scene analysis and for being a leader in the field of science communication, always pushing forward the public’s understanding of science, and in particular forensic science.

Her talk will focus on her work in rural and remote areas of the UK, and how her team is leading the scientific teams who helped to solve many of the UK’s most complex and intractable criminal cases.

The 10th, synopsis and booking details for this lecture will be available via www.sheffield.ac.uk/whatson/angelaalloplecture in the run-up to the event. Enquiries: E: eventsteam@sheffield.ac.uk
