04 October 2019
Dr Hayriye Cagnan, Nuffield Department of Clinical Neurosciences, University of Oxford, UK
"Revealing the pathological role of neural synchrony through dynamic neuromodulation"
Host – Dr Robert Schmidt

11 October 2019
Dr Lorna Hardy, Department of Psychology, University of Exeter, UK
“Cues, cost discounting or negative affect - what underpins addiction?”
Host – Professor Matt Field

01 November 2019
Professor Joanne Smith, Department of Psychology, University of Exeter, UK
"Harnessing the power of group norms for behaviour change"
Host – Dr Thomas Webb

08 November 2019
Professor John Staddon, Duke Institute for Brain Sciences, Duke University, USA
"Skinner, Darwin and Memorial Hall: Reflections on the past and future of operant conditioning"
Host – Dr Liat Levita

22 November 2019
Professor Julian Rubel, Clinical Psychology and Psychotherapy, University of Trier, Germany
"Linear and nonlinear patterns of change in psychotherapy"
Host – Dr Jaime Delgadillo

29 November 2019
Professor Christopher Jarrold, School of Psychological Science, University of Bristol, UK
"Rethinking recoding and rehearsal: Implications for development and neuropsychology"
Host – Dr Claudia von Bastian

06 December 2019
Dr Jack Wells, Centre for Advanced Biomedical Imaging, University College London, UK
"Developing Non-Invasive MRI Techniques to Image Neuro-Fluids"
Host – Dr Clare Howarth

13 December 2019
Dr Rene Mottus, Department of Psychology, The University of Edinburgh, UK
"Personomics: Putting the many dimensions of personality into good use"
Host – Dr Fuschia Sirios

For more information, please contact James Barker – j.m.barker@sheffield.ac.uk