Your day, your way

You can do things in any order you like. The only thing that's fixed is the time of your department talk.

There are exhibitions open all day where you can discover more about the University and the courses you're interested in. There are talks repeated at least twice a day on everything from student life to funding your studies.

Tours of the accommodation take place every 20 minutes. You can do a self-guided tour of the campus at a time to suit you. Collect a self-guided tour leaflet from the Central Exhibition (see page 6 for location) or any of the Information Hubs.

Information Hubs have been placed in key locations across the campus (see page 28). Our students and staff will be at the Hubs to answer any questions you have, talk to you about life as a Sheffield student and help you find your way around.

We've tried to make things as flexible as possible for you. You can even fit in time to explore our special city. Use this guide to plan your day, your way.

An extraordinary place

Your course

Staff at Sheffield are dedicated to providing a world-class learning experience. Meet the professionals who make sure everything runs smoothly and help you get the most out of your degree.

Your personal development

Find out how you could spend part of your course studying abroad, learning another language or developing your own business ideas.

Your support systems

Sheffield has the best student services in the UK. We'll give you advice on student loans, grants, University bursaries and scholarships. Plus all the services we offer to make sure you're well looked after.

Your community

Sheffield is a unique place to live. Many of our students love it so much that they choose to stay here after they've graduated. To find out more you can ask the people who look after our student accommodation. Or talk to someone from the Students' Union about the incredible social life. You'll find information on everything from sport and libraries to our multifaith chaplaincy service.

Your future

Why are Sheffield graduates so good at competing for jobs? Find out from our Careers Service staff what makes a Sheffield graduate special, and how they can support you right from the start of your degree.

Which course?

It's not unusual if you haven't decided exactly which course you want to do. At our faculty exhibitions, staff and students from every discipline can offer advice and answer questions about the different subjects and specialisms you can study. If you can't make it to a departmental talk, or just want to find out more, they'll be able to fill you in.

What happens next?

This is just the start of your journey. You'll have another opportunity to visit us once you've applied.

Department open days

If you're offered a place on a course, you'll be invited to a department open day. Some departments will invite you to visit before they offer you a place, to find out more about you and discuss your application. These open days happen later in the year. Don't miss this chance to get to know your department better.

You'll spend a whole day with staff and students. They'll tell you more about the course and the research they do. And you'll start to get a much clearer idea of what it's like to study here.
